PATIENT INFORMATION

Some imaging procedures require pre-authorisation from your medical aid. Please contact your medical aid administrator for details.
Female patients please inform the radiology staff should you be pregnant or suspect that you might be pregnant.

PATIENT PREPARATION INSTRUCTIONS

Abdominal Ultrasound

Nil per mouth 6 hours prior to exam (eating introduces air into the stomach and bowel, complicating visualisation of the target organs and also causes the gallbladder to collapse).

Water and medication may be taken.

Kidney/Pelvis Ultrasound

Eat and drink as normal.

Please arrive with a full bladder.

MRI

Please notify the MRI facility should any of the following be present:

Cardiac pacemakers, intracranial aneurysm clips, neurostimulators, cochlear implants or any ferromagnetic foreign bodies.

Please wear comfortable clothing. You may be asked to change into metal-free clothing.

CT SCAN

Preparation prior to a CT scan is largely dependent on the region being examined. All preparation procedures will be outlined when making your appointment.

Patient registration forms can be downloaded from www.scp.co.za.
